

How your Bequest can help preserve the Balcombe Estuary Reserves

Caring for the Balcombe Estuary Reserves

Leaving a gift to BERG Mt Martha in your will can help ensure that the natural beauty of the Balcombe Estuary and its reserves is maintained into the future.

In making a bequest to BERG Mt Martha, you will be recognising the value of our work and supporting that work to continue beyond your lifetime.

Your choice of bequest

A bequest does not have to be large. Financial gifts of all sizes make a significant difference to our important conservation work. There are many ways of tailoring a bequest to suit your personal preferences and circumstances. The most common types of bequest are:

Residual bequest

You can provide for your family and friends first and leave what is left (the residue) to BERG Mt Martha. If your estate increases in value, so does your bequest.

A residual bequest helps offset the effect of inflation. BERG Mt Martha can receive all forms of property and shares, and can be the beneficiary of a life insurance policy.

Percentage or nominated portion of estate

Your estate could be divided proportionally among a number of people and/or organisations. You won't have to remake your will to compensate for changes in value over time.

Life interest

Establishing a life interest in your will allows a spouse or nominated person to use your property and to receive all of the income derived from your estate during their lifetime. The capital can then be passed on to BERG Mt Martha.

Cash sum

A specific cash sum is a common form of bequest but, because it doesn't allow for changes in the value of your estate, it may need to be renewed periodically.

Codicil

You can amend your existing will to include a bequest to BERG Mt Martha by preparing a signed and witnessed codicil (an additional page to your will). You should seek professional legal advice when preparing a codicil to ensure it does not contradict anything already in your will and is legally binding. For substantial amendments, it is recommended that you make a new will.
